Four Seek Seat In Esquimalt-Saanich

—Four Main Parties

Four candidates will court the some 60,000 eligible voters of Esquimalt-Saanich on Monday when the nation goes to the polls. The four main parties here will each seek the seat.

Candidates are:

George Chatterton, Conservative
James Gorst, Liberal
Vera Pipes, Social Credit
Len Stephenson, New Democrat.

Polls will be open from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m.

GEORGE CHATTERTON . . . P. Con.

JAMES GORST . . . Lib.

VERA PIPES . . . Social Credit

LEN STEPHENSON . . . N.D.P.

NO OBJECTIONS TO REZONING

Rezoning by-law to permit construction of campers and small trailers on property adjacent to Westcraft Manufacturing, Keating Cross Road, was given final approval by Central Saanich council Tuesday.

Property was rezoned from agricultural to general commercial following a public hearing. There were no objections. Spokesman for the applicants, Caveman Campers Ltd., said it will be some time yet before the company moves its operations from its present location at 1812 Douglas St., Victoria.

ANOTHER IS NAMED

One Up, One Down As Cook Says Yes And Ericson No

Score is one up and one down in the Dean Park area of North Saanich.

Councillor J. C. Erickson will not seek a further term on the council, but his colleague from the southern area, Councillor D. R. Cook, will run for election in December.

Both men were appointed councillors by Municipal Affairs Minister D. R. J. Campbell when North Saanich was formed. Harry A. Taylor will seek Councillor Erickson's seat. Both Councillor Cook and Mr. Taylor will run under the sponsorship of the Dean Park Property Owners' Association.

Councillor Erickson has launched a plea for greater interest in municipal affairs.

CONSTRUCTION UP AGAIN AT SIDNEY

Now construction recovered from a summer-long slump in Sidney during October as permits collectively valued at $130,000 were issued in the village last month.

Boosting the October figures were seven permits for the construction of single-family dwellings, worth $103,675.

Remainder of the total figure was permits for commercial construction valued at $26,325. Renovations to the restaurant at the Sidney Airport Travelodge accounted for the majority of this figure.

Despite the increase in new construction activity here in October, building figures for the year are still well behind last year. Permit value so far this year is $549,755, compared to $1,012,447 for the same period in 1964. Value of permits issued in the village in October 1964 was $52,100.

COUNCIL DECISION Praised

Rejection by Central Saanich council of an Ocean Cement Co. application to establish an operation near the Tugboat Point subdivision was hailed by a Victoria group this week.

Letter praising the decision was received from the Capital Region Branch of the Community Planning Association of Canada.

Hardware Store Proposed

Application of D. Tyson, Victoria, to construct a hardware and electrical supply store on West Saanich Road north of Keating Cross Road was tabled for further study by Central Saanich council on Tuesday.

Undersized Fish

Keeping undersized fish resulted in fines for two men in Sidney magistrate's court recently. Gordon A. Rolston was fined $15 and David D. Frankham paid a $20 fine.

Platforms of the four Esquimalt-Saanich candidates for the November 8 federal election were expounded to approximately 50 people at an all-candidates meeting in Sidney elementary school Monday evening.

The meeting, sponsored by the Sidney Junior Chamber of Commerce and chaired by Jaycee President W. J. Knowles, opened the final week of the campaign in this constituency.

One candidate was missing. Conservative George Chatterton was unable to attend, due to a prior commitment, but sent Don Mathison of Victoria to speak on his behalf.

SOCIAL CREDIT

Following introductions of the candidates by Cliff Churches, Social Credit contestant, Mrs. Vera Pipes led off the speakers by calling for fairer treatment of B.C. by the federal government. She charged that the two major parties have continually failed to follow up on their campaign promises regarding this province.

"Many promises made when B.C. entered confederation have still not been met," she said. "This is a fact."

The only way promises can come into being is to be passed by parliament, Mrs. Pipes said. British Columbia is a wealthy province "but I don't see why we should always be sending money east to build bridges to Prince Edward Island and what not," she said. The Social Credit candidate said she has no quarrel with such projects, but she simply wants a fair share for B.C.

MORE CO-OPERATION

Calling for greater co-operation between the federal government and the provinces, Mrs. Pipes said Esquimalt-Saanich needs a representative who will keep their residence here to be in close contact with the people.

Liberal candidate James Gorst based his platform on the record of the Liberal minority government despite "continuous harassment" from the opposition parties and he urged that voters give the Liberals a clear majority on Monday to enable the government to get down to business.

"We have had enough elections in the last 7½ years to last 25 years and a majority party is needed most of all," he said.

LEGISLATION

Reviewing legislation enacted by the government since 1963, Mr. Gorst briefly touched on the major items and noted that new home construction in Canada is 12 per cent higher this year than last year and is now at an all-time high. The Canada Pension Plan has been introduced; interest-free loans have been made available to university students; a national flag was introduced; old age pensions raised to $75 to be available at age 65, and unemployment reduced from over seven per cent to 2.8 per cent, Mr. Gorst said.

The Liberal government has treated B.C. excellently and spent over $100 million more in the province last year than was received in taxes, the candidate said.

CONTINUED CAMPAIGN

"The minority government has been nothing more than a continued election campaign for small parties to get newspaper headlines," he said.

N.D.P. candidate Len Stephenson drew applause from some members of the audience when he stated: "We have to do something to get rid of atomic weapons on Canadian soil and regain world respect."

"They were put here to tie us tighter as a satellite of the United States," he charged, "and we can talk peace no longer."

"The New Democratic Party has stated that we must buy back our economy. Right now 70 per cent of our economy is owned outside our borders."

Mr. Stephenson said an N.D.P. government would buy back at least 51 per cent of foreign companies in Canada for control "but this would be a long range thing; you can't do something like this overnight."

Two Former Members In Nanaimo Contest

—With Two Others

In the Nanaimo-Islands riding the incumbent during the last session, Colin Cameron will seek to retain his seat for the New Democrats. He will face three others on Monday in the fight for the seat.

Candidates are:

Colin Cameron, New Democrat
Douglas Greer, Liberal
W. F. Matthews, Conservative
Lyle Wilkinson, Social Credit.

While Mr. Greer and Mr. Matthews have appeared in previous elections, Mr. Matthews wrested the seat from Mr. Cameron when the Diefenbaker star was rising and lost it to Mr. Cameron when the country turned away from the Conservative government.

COLIN CAMERON . . . N.D.P.

DOUGLAS GREER . . . LIBERAL

W. F. MATTHEWS . . . P.C.

LYLE WILKINSON . . . Social Credit

FIRE PROTECTION PUZZLES NORTH SAANICH COUNCIL

—WHO'S RESPONSIBLE?

Who appoints a chief of the Sidney and North Saanich Fire Department, who pays him and to whom is he responsible? These questions were asked and unanswered at Tuesday's meeting of North Saanich council.

Councillor D. R. Cook reported on attending a meeting of the fire committee. He had learned little. Later he was advised that a fire chief had been appointed and his salary fixed. He felt the matter should have been given more study although he was in no way critical of Chief G. A. Gardner. All this had been done without reference to North Saanich whose ratepayers are taxed for operation of the brigade.

"To whom is the chief responsible?" asked Reeve A. B. Nash.

"It is about time we learned if the fire department is in any way responsible to this new municipality," agreed Councillor D. R. MacLaren.

Councillor J. B. Cumming pointed out that the fire department must soon submit a budget for 1966 operating expenses to North Saanich. Some control would be exercised at that time, he explained.

Last-minute letters from the village of Sidney were read by Municipal Clerk Bracewell. One invited North Saanich representatives to meet in the village hall on Tuesday, Nov. 9, to discuss fire protection. Another suggested a conference on larger quarters for the R.C.M.P.

Councillors Cook, Cumming and Erickson were authorized to meet and discuss fire protection. It was agreed that this would not be an appropriate time to hold a joint discussion on policing as a survey of North Saanich's police needs is now being conducted by the R.C.M.P. As a village, Sidney pays no police costs. As a district municipality, North Saanich does.

Sidney Church Looks Back

To 1920 When Union Came About Here

Clock at St. Paul's United Church in Sidney will be set back 45 years on Sunday when Rev. T. G. Griffiths preaches again in his old pulpit.

The Sidney United Church will mark the 45th anniversary of the union of the local Wesley Methodist Church and St. Paul's Presbyterian Church in 1920.

The union came five years before the rest of Canada followed. It was not until June 10, 1925, that the United Church of Canada was born. Mr. Griffiths is now retired and makes his home in Victoria. The return to Sidney will bring back many memories to him and to many members of the congregation who were here 45 years ago.

TWO CONGREGATIONS

Congregation of St. John's, Deep Cove, will join with St. Paul's for the services on Sunday. Mr. Griffiths will preach at 10 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. on Sunday.

The minister recalls that the Local Union was directed by a Church Governing Committee. The Book of Praise was used and the service followed the Presbyterian form.

Mr. Griffiths recalls that N. Patrick was secretary-treasurer and J. T. Taylor superintendent of the Sunday school. He recalled a number of people connected with the church union including W. H. Lowe, of Patricia Bay; D. Harvey, J. Creighton, George Hill, Cecil Wemyss, William Armstrong, Alex McDonald, Ben Douceton, R. H. Ellis, E. R.

TRUCK SHEARS POLE ON WEST SAANICH

Internal injuries and lacerations were suffered by a Brentwood Bay man last Friday evening when the pick-up truck he was driving failed to negotiate a curve on West Saanich Road, just south of McTavish Road.

Edwin T. Eade, 1144 Verdler Ave., was rushed to West Haven Hospital and later transferred to a Victoria hospital.

R.C.M.P. at Sidney said the 1961 model truck was extensively damaged when it sheared off a power pole on the 30 mile per hour corner. No charges will be laid, said a police spokesman.

RICHMOND MAN CONVICTED OF IMPAIRMENT

Irving F. Thompson of Richmond was convicted in Sidney magistrate's court on Monday of impaired driving.

Charge was laid by Sidney R.C.M.P. after Thompson's car went out of control and finished up in a ditch on September 25 at Sidney. He was fined $350 by Magistrate D. G. Ashby.

THREE-CAR COLLISION ON HIGHWAY

Charges are being contemplated by R.C.M.P. at Sidney as the result of a three-car collision on Patricia Bay Highway near Wains Cross Road on Sunday evening.

The double rear-end crash caused approximately $1,600 damage to the vehicles but there were no injuries.

Police said the accident occurred when a car driven by Ralph Connor, 3222 Shelly St., Victoria, braked suddenly. His car was struck by a vehicle driven by Andrew Gray, 1066 St. Patrick St., Victoria and this car was then hit by a car driven by Donald Barclay of 2214 Victoria St., Victoria.

Damage to the cars was estimated at $600, $700 and $300 respectively. The three vehicles were travelling south on the highway at the time of the accident in a line of traffic.

Public Hearing In Sidney

Public hearing will take place on Thursday evening, Nov. 18 to examine a number of changes proposed in the Sidney village zoning by-law. No changes may be made in zoning without such a hearing, affording all concerned to express an opinion.

The changes provide for modifications to the zoning regulations as well as specific changes in respect of certain areas.

Escapes Injury

A Saanichton man escaped injury early Saturday morning when his car went out of control and landed in a ditch on Lands End Road.

Peter John Cornish, 8213 Patricia Bay Highway, told R.C.M.P. at Sidney that he was blinded by the lights of an approaching vehicle as he drove east on Lands End Road about 1 a.m.

Taylor Deplores Lack of Automatic Alarm System

When Sidney village council last week decided to meet with North Saanich representatives to discuss future fire agreement between the two communities, Commissioner D. E. Taylor was bothered by factors outside the immediate discussion.

The youthful commissioner spoke warmly for the provision of automatic alarm systems in the municipal hall, the fire hall and the Sidney school.

Comm. Taylor suggested that the amount of money expended on these structures would justify an automatic system to safeguard them. The system would sound an alarm as soon as a fire broke out.

North Saanich council, and the fire committee, had been concerned at Sidney's lack of communication regarding fire protection. The North Saanich municipality had written in September, reported Cmdr. F. B. Leigh, at an earlier meeting. Letters were never received by the village, the council was told.

Bazan Bay Unit of St. Paul's United Church Women held their monthly meeting Wednesday, Oct. 27, at the home of Mrs. J. Kennaird.

Devotions were led by Mrs. C. Erickson, while Mrs. Kennaird continued the study on Trinidad.

Nine members and five visitors were welcomed.

Mrs. Kennaird reported on the executive meeting of the previous week of the general U.C.W., at which plans for the fall bazaar on November 13 were discussed, also the visitations committee dinner November 7.

Mrs. Kennaird, sewing convener, displayed sewing material. Several members and visitors offered to sew items for the fall bazaar.

MRS. W. J. WAKEFIELD — PHONE 656-2214

Mrs. W. Hale, Third St., is a patient at Rest Haven Hospital, where she is undergoing treatment. After a most enjoyable month's holiday in California, Mr. and Mrs. T. Flint have returned to their home on Third St.

Gordon Hulme, Beaufort Road, and Jack Keller, of Deep Cove, have returned to their respective homes after enjoying a hunting trip in Alberta.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Troster, of Vancouver, spent last week-end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Muselow, Third St.

In honor of Mrs. R. Philipchalk, nee Miss Daydene Bell, a miscellaneous shower was recently given by Mrs. M. Hartshorne, Laurel Road, Deep Cove. On arrival, the bride, her mother and mother of the groom, received corsages in two shades of pink. Gaily wrapped gifts were presented to the bride by Mrs. Hartshorne's granddaughter, Colleen Sheppard. Combined with the shower was a get-acquainted party. Two guests, Mrs. S. Hackett and Mrs. J. Appleby, newcomers in the district, each received a figurine and plate. Guests present were Mesdames W. Kynaston, M. Dolan, G. Few, C. Downey, M. Williams, J. Appleby, R. Philipchalk, S. Hackett, K. Mollett, D. Scott, C.

EXPERIENCE

The thing that makes a book a good book to a child is that it is an experience. The child who has read and enjoyed such a book has grown a little, has added something to his stature. He is a little more capable of enjoying new impressions. He has gained something permanent which can never be taken away from him—Lillian H. Smith, Toronto Public Libraries.

CURIOUS SAVAGE

IN SIDNEY BY NEXT WEEK

Concerned with the Ins and Outs of a home for mental patients are Ken Smith and Cindy Tyler. The pair of popular players portray a psychiatrist and his assistant in "The Curious Savage," fall production of Peninsula Players to be presented at 8:15 p.m. Friday and Saturday, November 12 and 13, at Kinsmen Hall at the Airport.

The Ins are the lovable loonies who live at The Cloisters, refined retreat for the wealthy and wacky. The Outs are the incurably "sane" relatives who put them there.

As resident psychiatrist and his aide, Mr. Smith and Miss Tyler are in the middle of the muddle. Their discomfort provides some of the funniest moments of the warm-hearted John Patrick comedy.

EASE AND AUTHORITY

After ten years in a variety of roles with the Players, Ken Smith brings ease and authority to a plum part. His pipe-smoking, philosophy and a good turn of phrase, hoped that the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Pearkes will be present.

Monday, Nov. 15, is our general monthly meeting and we are hoping for a good turnout.

phical Dr. Emmett adds another characterization to a roster of previous roles in "Pygmalion," "The Fish," "Miranda," "As Long as They're Happy" and, most recently, "The Rape of the Belt."

Cindy Tyler was "discovered" at the first Players meeting she attended a little more than a year ago. "I hadn't quite signed on as a member," she recalls, "when I found myself cast as Pearl Bond, the tart in 'Pink String and Seal'ing Wax.'" This second role is in complete contrast; she plays the sympathetic but strict Miss Willie who watches over her grown-up charges like the nicest of nannies.

AUDIENCE APPEAL

Margaret Dixon directs the play, admittedly selected because of its audience appeal and the opportunity it gives a cast of 11 to participate.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of Peninsula Players or from Cornish's Book Store. Single admissions are $1 and 1965-66 season tickets to include next spring's production are $1.50. There are no advance sales of student tickets, but students holding activity cards will be admitted for 50 cents at Kinsmen Hall door on either night.

JACK YOUNG REPORTS

POPPY CAMPAIGN ALREADY IN HIGH AS DATE NEARING

Lt.-Col. George Paulin, Legion Poppy Chairman, reports a very successful meeting between Legion, Ladies' Auxiliary and Army & Navy Veterans representatives for the covering of the area for the Poppy Day campaign on Saturday, Nov. 6. This date has been proclaimed as Poppy Day by the Sidney village council on the request of the campaign chairman and a proclamation to this effect appears in this issue.

Last Saturday, Oct. 30, Legion and Auxiliary members were busy covering the business sections of the area selling poppy wreaths. These wreaths are made by disabled veterans under the direction of the department of veteran affairs. The sale provides employment for many veterans who would otherwise be unemployed and the proceeds from the sale of the poppies and wreaths are kept in a separate fund by the Legion and can only be used for the relief of distressed veterans or dependents.

Your poppy contributions help the Canadian Legion fight human misery. Yes, for some there are pensions, but no pension covers such emergencies such as family illness, medical bills or a fire. Your poppy contributions means quick help when it is needed most.

Give generously, it cannot heal the bodies broken in service of their country, we can do so little for these men who did so much for us, however, we can express our gratitude by giving generously to the Canadian Legion Poppy Fund.

LAYING A WREATH

To those of you who would like to lay a wreath at the Cenotaph on November 11, the Legion Poppy Committee has set up headquarters on Beacon Ave., and can be contacted by phone there. Call 656-3814 with any requests for wreaths and they will be promptly attended to. If you do not wish to lay a wreath yourself, the Legion will provide a legionnaire to lay it for you.

Proceeds from last year's campaign amounted to $1,934.48 and we have paid out in welfare this year $2,023.57.

LOCAL GUIDES ASSOCIATION MEETS SOON

Sidney Local Association of the Girl Guides of Canada will hold a general meeting at the Scout and Guide Hall at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 10. It is hoped that all former members and mothers of new Guides and Brownies will attend.

The Local Association acts as an auxiliary to the local Guide company and the local Brownie pack. Apart from a minimum of fund-raising, members assist the Guide captain, Mrs. Jean Kennedy, and the Brown Owl, Mrs. Coryl Kavanaugh, at special functions such as the Brownie flying-up ceremonies and outings for the Guides. They are also called upon, from time to time to assist with transportation or extra provisions for parties and picnics.

It is not necessary to be a Guide or Brownie mother to join the Local Association. Anyone who is interested in Guides or Brownies will be more than welcome, said a spokesman.

AT EXPERIMENTAL FARM

GOAT CLUB MEMBERS ENJOY ACHIEVEMENT NIGHT WHEN VARIOUS AWARDS PRESENTED

Members of the Saanich 4-H Goat Club enjoyed Achievement Night at the Saanichton Experimental Farm Pavilion on October 23.

Among the guests were G. Landon, head of the Extension Branch, B.C. department of agriculture, and Mrs. Landon; Ken Jameson, District Agriculturist; Wm. McCubbin and Peter Ivatts, representing the Victoria Kiwanians—the club's sponsor; and the families of the members.

The evening began with turkey dinner served in informal buffet style by the mothers.

Kathryn Logan, the club president, was chairman. Bill Bailey, vice-president, said the 4-H grace. Keith Gibbons led the members in reciting the 4-H pledge.

Carol Gurr, secretary, reported on the activities and achievements of the club during the year. Then the chairman called upon four of the members to move a vote of thanks to adults who helped make this 11th year of 4-H goat club work in Saanich so successful.

THANKS TO PARENTS

Cathy-May Anderson thanked the parents and J. W. Logan replied. Cathy-Joanne Anderson thanked the club sponsor—the Victoria Kiwanians. Wm. McCubbin, the chairman of the agricultural committee of the Victoria Kiwanians, replied and then presented the pec-wee members with special prizes from the Kiwanians.

Bob Bailey and Rose Smart thanked the club leader, Mrs. C. Maule, and the assistant leaders, Mrs. T. Gurr, Mrs. E. Smart, Mrs. J. W. Logan and Mr. R. Beckett. Peter Ivatts, from the Victoria Kiwanians introduced a humorous item into the program, when he led the junior club members in a series of stunts.

Ribbons, prize cheques, badges, certificates and trophies won by the 21 club members were then presented.

Margaret Lord, one of the junior leaders, commented on the special achievements and contributions made by each member and awarded their achievement ribbons.

PURPLE HONOR

For the second year Kathryn Logan had the honor of winning a purple honor ribbon, a special distinction awarded by the department of agriculture to the very few 4-H members who attain a standard of 95 per cent on their year's achievements. Rose Smart also received this award.

Other club members who received achievement ribbons were: Denise Bailey, Charlie Gurr, Jean Money, Rose Smart, Cathy-May Anderson, Cathie-Joanne Anderson, Bill Bailey, Bob Bailey, Keith Gibbons, Carol Gurr, Nancy Anderson, Douglas Bailey, Paul Gurr, Rosalyn Logan, Terry Beckett, Gail Anderson, Rennie Anderson, Jim Bailey and Bruce Hamilton.

Ken Jameson, district agriculturist in charge of 4-H work on the south Island, gave 4-H badges to junior members, and junior leadership certificates and seals to four senior girls, Rose Smart, Jean Money, Margaret Lord and Denise Bailey.

To Rose Smart, who has just completed her fifth year as a junior leader, he made a special award. Mr. Jameson also presented a ten-year leadership certificate to Mrs. C. Maule and a five-year leadership certificate to Mrs. E. Smart.

Mr. Landon of the provincial department of agriculture, was the final speaker, he presented to the members the cups and trophies they had won.

These included, judging, Scott & Peden junior judging, Terry Beckett; Hudson Bay intermediate judging, Cathy-May Anderson; Victoria Kiwanis senior judging, Denise Bailey; showmanship, Maule junior showmanship, Bill Bailey; May L. Rose senior showmanship tray, Denise Bailey and Jean Money; special awards, Jean Harvey kid goat cup, Rosalyn Logan; Ellison Milling and Elevator goat husbandry trophy, Carol Gurr and Kathryn Logan; B.C. Goat Breeders' trophy for best 4-H purebred doe, Rose Smart.

Achievement cups, for highest marks in year's achievement in judging, showmanship, club work, records and goat husbandry, Victoria Kiwanis junior achievement, Terry Beckett; Scott & Peden intermediate achievement, Kathryn Logan; Mooncrest senior achievement, Margaret Lord and Jean Money; Victoria Kiwanis first year member, Keith Gibbons.

Finally, Denise Bailey made a special presentation on behalf of the club to Jean Money, a senior member, who was chosen by the department of agriculture to be among the 14 delegates who will represent B.C. at National 4-H Youth Week at the Toronto Royal Winter Fair this November.

The evening ended with a sing song and some skits led by Rose Smart and Mrs. Gurr.

CENTRAL SAANICH

SAANICHTON

Winners at the South Saanich Women's Institute "500" card party last Wednesday evening were Mrs. P. Hamilton, Mrs. W. Wills, L. Barr, and M. Meiklejohn. There were eight tables in play and hostesses Mrs. A. Hafer and Mrs. H. F. Young served refreshments.

H. Way, Russell, Man., has been visiting his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Saint, Dean Park Road, during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Bickford, Wallace Drive, returned home on Saturday after a week spent in Vancouver and Seattle.

Mrs. C. Essey, Butler Road, is home again after spending a few days in the Royal Jubilee Hospital last week.

Back To Former Duties

Warnock Named To Old Post

George C. Warnock, of Brentwood Bay, has been named executive director of the John Howard Society on Vancouver Island. His appointment will be effective November 15.

Mr. Warnock assumes the duties from another local resident, Murray B. Gaw, of East Saanich Road, was last week named regional representative of the National Parole Board.

The new appointment represents a home from home. Mr. Warnock served in the same capacity from 1954 until 1958. He handed over the reins to Mr. Gaw and is now resuming them from Mr. Gaw. Until 1963 Mr. Warnock was director of the New Haven Borstal in Burnaby. Later he has been adult probation officer in Victoria.

Mr. Warnock brings a variety of experience to his new office. He was at one time principal of Fairbridge Farm school near Duncan and from 1948 until 1954 he was a social worker with the provincial department of social welfare.

COSTUMES AND POP AND GAMES

HALLOWE'EN AT SAANICHTON IS BUSY AS CHILDREN SWARM TO COMMUNITY PARTY

An estimated 300 children and adults gathered for the 19th consecutive Halloween party, under the auspices of the Saanichton Community Club on Saturday evening at the Agricultural Hall. Crowds and noises clearly indicated that it was a howling success.

Well over 100 youngsters in varied costumes paraded in the grand march to the accompaniment of Percy Lazarz on the piano accordion.

A large bonfire and fireworks drew the children and many adults out-of-doors following the parade. Two exhibition basketball games were played.

Hot dogs, cookies and pop for the children and coffee for adults brought a full evening to a close.

Following are the winners: best dressed—1, Jeanette and Hugh Ruthven; 2, Laurel and Pat Prosser; 3, Karen Michell; special mention, Jodine and Lynne Falek, Jacqueline Smith, Mary Ann Webber and Leslie Barr. Best comic—1, Karen Johnston; 2, Moira Chisholm; 3, Andrew Robertson; special mention, Bobby Munro, Birdena Bowditch, Diana Wynen, Kathy Larsen, Debbie Clapton, Stephen Hitchen, Laureen Patterson and Dennis Larzaz.

Most original: 1, Wayne, Benny, Philip and Kency Cuthbert; 2, June, Marion and David Van't Riet; 3, Dennis, Alice, Harold, Peter and Louise Rasmussen; special mention, Gordon Fox, Ian Stewart, Sandra and Jane Robertson, Sheena Fraser and Dallas and Stacey Akers.

Halloween characters: 1, Kathy and Robert Flood; 2, Debbie Lazarz; 3, Donna Johnson; special mention: Laurie Fido, Brian McCarthy, Peter Harrison and John Lyon. Youngest girl in costume: Pamela Combs; youngest boy, Terence Hitchen.

Judges for Halloween costumes were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Williams and R. Boutillier.

Former James Island Resident Mrs. R. B. Carpenter Dies at Calgary

Well-known former resident of James Island, Mrs. Margaret F. Carpenter, aged 57, passed away at General Hospital in Calgary on October 27 after a brief illness.

The late Mrs. Carpenter was widely known in this area as she resided on James Island from 1954 to 1961 during which time her husband, Robert Burton Carpenter, served as manager of the James Island C-I plant.

She was born at Springhill, Nova Scotia, and moved to Vancouver in 1912 and was a graduate of the University of B.C. in public health nursing. Mrs. Carpenter later moved to Nobel, Ont., and also resided at Selkirk, Man., and Beloit, Quebec, before coming to James Island.

She was a member of the P.E.O. Sisterhood and was active at the Calgary Allied Arts Centre.

She is survived by her husband at the residence, 3827 12th St. S.W., Calgary; two daughters, Mrs. K. M. (Janet) Fleming, Windsor, Ont., and Miss Susan Carpenter, Vancouver, B.C.; two sons, Robert, Huntsville, Ont., and Donald, Victoria; one granddaughter; two sisters and one brother.

Cremation followed funeral services at Calgary last Saturday morning when Rev. John D. McKenzie officiated.

VARIETY OF PRODUCTS

AT UNIVERSITY CAMPUS

Variety of products will be offered at the University of Victoria next week when the Treasure Van is on display.

World University Services of Canada is concerned with the provision of educational facilities in underdeveloped countries. The Victoria branch will sponsor the display of handicrafts from almost every country in the world.

Divorced from politics and sectarian identification, the service has representatives in lands where travel and communication are normally restricted.

The demonstration at Victoria University will be on November 8 to 10 at the Students Union Building on the Gordon Head Campus. Handicrafts will be displayed for sale from 12 noon to 5 p.m. and from 7-9 p.m. each day. Almost every country of the world will be represented among the displays.

Indian Education Conference

Conference on Indian education to be held at Nanaimo on November 15 will be attended by two representatives from Saanich school district. Meeting will be attended by F. A. McLellan, schools superintendent, and E. J. Dorran, principal of Mount Newton junior secondary school.

Approaching The End

HYSTERIA and emotional violence have almost reached their crescendo across Canada as election day hoves in sight. Monday is an election day like any other: so like the last federal election day, indeed, that they are distinguishable by little more than chronology. Yet, it is an election day like no other.

For the past decade election tradition has been sharply warped. Areas in which the popular voice has long been consistent have changed their notes. French-speaking communities which have been particular favorites of forecasters have switched their allegiance and new philosophies have been heard in Gallic accents.

While the popular conclusion across the Dominion is that little change will result from Monday's election, the Liberals, under the direction of Prime Minister Lester Pearson, are expected to gain a little wider margin.

This district is unlikely to contribute to any such development.

In Esquimalt-Saanich Conservative George Chatterton has held his seat through past elections, gaining a progressively larger margin. Despite his allegiance to his leader, John Diefenbaker, he will probably retain the seat.

Vigorous campaign has been fought by all parties, with a louder challenge by Social Credit than has been offered in previous elections.

Among the islands of the Nanaimo-Islands riding the campaign has brought candidates to the scattered communities with less regularity than to landlocked areas. The picture remains unchanged. Colin Cameron is likely to retain the seat for the New Democratic Party and return to take his place in Ottawa.

It has not been the practice of these communities to seek representation by a government member. As a community, these ridings are ornery and sit in opposition. Perhaps British Columbia with its soaring and changing population, is the least predictable of provinces. Its comparative dearth of people and representatives decreases its significance nationally. Yet, with the trend of development here on the coast, B.C. might one day become a power in the national parliament.

In the meantime, voters have been widely exhorted to attend the polls on Monday. The first duty of us all on Monday is to vote. We have a further obligation to inform ourselves to the best of our ability of the relative issues in the election. An informed electorate on Monday represents the country's greatest asset.

Ferry Service

SALT Spring Island Chamber of Commerce has asked the B.C. Ferry Authority to establish the northern terminal of the Swartz Bay-Fulford ferry at Isabella Point.

The present ferry service is that which was inaugurated nearly 40 years ago and served by the same vessel for most of those years. Until the present decade the Cy Peck plied between the attractive rural pier at Swartz Bay and the industrial harbor of Fulford.

Traffic wound around the narrow road leading out to Swartz Bay and made its leisurely way up Salt Spring Island.

Times have changed.

Traffic now hares up the highway to Swartz Bay ferry terminal. At the terminal Salt Spring Island traffic veers away from the modern attractive ships provided by the provincial government to board the sad old river boat, the Dowager Salt Spring Queen. For 45 minutes they shiver as the mighty vessel wallows across the water to Fulford.

Why not move the terminal at Salt Spring Island to Isabella Point? asks the island chamber, and reduce the travelling time of the Dowager Queen to some 20 minutes. Why not, indeed?

Rest Haven Hospital

FOR more than four decades members of a religious group have operated a modern hospital in Sidney. Over the years the institution has been improved constantly—thus raising the standard of medical care provided. During all those years the hospital board has raised all capital needed for modernization of the facilities and not one cent has been realized from direct taxation.

The Review has said before, and does not hesitate to reiterate, that no other group would have carried on this selfless work of guarding the health and welfare of Saanich Peninsula residents.

Not so many years ago, when it was apparent that the building required more modern fire protection, a complete automatic system was installed—and paid for by the hospital's administration. The bill must have been a substantial one.

Today the question of connecting the hospital's waste disposal system to the village mains is a lively subject. Unless we miss our guess entirely, the forward-thinking board of Rest Haven will proceed with the connection if it is an added safeguard to the health of residents of the community. If this guess is correct, only the matter of timing remains. The job will be a costly one. The village should co-operate to the full with those who have proven their co-operation with us over 40 years. There should be no gun held at the institution's head.

Let us proceed with the sewer connection of Rest Haven, by all means. But let us make haste slowly. In this way the necessary work will be done and no after-math of hostility and bitterness will remain.

HALLOWEEN FAIRLY QUIET THIS YEAR

Halloween was a relatively quiet night on the Saanich Peninsula according to police at Sidney and Central Saanich.

R.C.M.P. at Sidney said they received only a few complaints during the evening. Firecrackers were lost into hallways of several apartment blocks in the village, windows were streaked with soap and some signs were uprooted.

Possible fire at St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church on Third St. was averted when a nearby resident doused flames at the main door.

Police said some paint at the door had apparently been ignited by firecrackers.

Letters To The Editor

BRASH YOUNG MAN

My first reaction to Mr. Taylor's verbiage in last week's Review was to ignore his drivel and put it down to brash immaturity.

For a young man who entered village politics with the admission that he knew very little about such matters, it is rather pathetic to learn that after almost a year in office he doesn't know the difference between truth and what he would have the general public believe to be the truth.

It must be sickening to the general public to read the ridiculous statements that emanate periodically from one they elected to represent them... one who, last December, had the support of a substantial number of voters.

Mr. Taylor knows very well that Mr. Mitchell resigned in protest against an uncalculated five-mill increase, and that I resigned because he (Taylor) in company with Mr. Boas and Mr. Christian tried to push through a public works program that had never been presented to committee for study, nor to myself as chairman of public works committee and chairman of council... a series of six motions, to be voted on immediately (one of which was for the presentation of a money bill for $225,000, and presented after I had made public the fact that the finance chairman, supported by two other commissioners, suggested in committee that the sum of $175,000 be contracted for WITHOUT going to the ratepayers).

Resigning as I did, brought to light the real "shenanigans" that were going on in council, and the fact that Mr. Heward resigned was to his credit. He, too, was disgusted with the "ridiculous shenanigans" taking place within council, and would not be a party to the methods being employed.

It is also unfortunate that Mr. Taylor did not check into the number of years I had been chairman, before making such rash statements, or the number of times I as chairman of public works, along with a former chairman of council, made the "long trip" to Victoria to meet with government officials.

He might have found out the number of hours spent in meetings with Mr. Gagliardi, Mr. Miard, Mr. McLeod and Mr. Provenzano (the latter two being killed in a plane crash at Patricia Bay Airport).

He might also have learned of meetings with other provincial engineers, and works foremen who had the plans of the new highway stretched across the walls of their rooms at Craigville Motel.

He might also have learned of the objections that were raised to the Beacon Ave. and Lochside entrances; of the presentations that were made to, and the delegations that appeared before the highways department officials... delegates that included Dr. Hemmings and myself, Mr. L.L.A., Mr. Fisdalle, representatives of the businessmen of the area as well as the volunteer fire department.

Mr. Taylor might also have learned that we sought the planting of small trees along the highway as it passed through our village, and when that failed, seeking proper fenceposts (ornamental) for the fence that we had hoped to hide. He might also have learned of the efforts made to secure lights, including the "FIRE" light that is now installed at the corner of Beacon Ave. and the highway.

Mr. Taylor could have found out a lot of things if he had only tried, but rather he has seen fit to besmirch the names of all former

Tenders Called For School Additions

Tenders have been called by Saanich school board for the construction of two-classroom additions at Kenting and Lochside elementary schools. Tenders will be opened at the next meeting of the board on Tuesday, Nov. 9. Work was approved earlier this year by ratepayers in Referendum No. 9.

commissioners who went quietly about their way, working in the best interests of the village.

Yes, Mr. Editor, it is about time "council spoke out"... with the truth.

Past commissioners, including those who have just recently resigned, found no need for making senseless twaddle... They were workers, every one of them—not publicity seekers, who find it easier to bask in the headlines than to seek facts.

WIT'S END by WINDSOR

Have you ever considered the wonders of an apple tree. In spring it is a mass of blossom, white and beautiful as a bride, its soft loveliness a pledge to the future. In summer it becomes a little mysterious, cool and green shaded, a place for drowsy bees and children who are not in the least drowsy, a place for tree houses and very important secrets. Then in the autumn, there are the apples, emerald like jewels along the boughs, green or yellow or red, a rich gift from nature to her ne'er-do-well sons.

So many things can be done with this fruit. It can be turned into cakes, pies and puddings, jellies, jams, turnovers, fritters and strudels. You name it and the apple is in there pitching. Mind you, I cannot in all conscience recommend these delicacies. All they do after all, is lead to gluttony, and as you know, this is ONE of the cardinal sins. A much more practical and beneficial method of disposing of your apple crop is to turn it into cider. In this way you can even use the windfalls, and so waste nothing.

NOT SUCCESSFUL

My first experience in cider making was not altogether successful. Newcomers to Vancouver Island are usually overwhelmed by the amount of fruit, and during their first season they can be spotted, hopelessly intangled in blackberry bushes, de-

"TALKING IT OVER"

PASTOR T. L. WESCOTT, B.A.
Suggitt Baptist Church
Brentwood Bay

Services Every Sunday

Family Worship ..... 10.00 a.m.

Evening Service ..... 7.30 p.m.

"For he (Satan) is a liar, and the father of it," John 8:44.

How often have you been taken in by a smooth talker? The salesman who comes to your door with such attractive offers and claims that the only reason that he can sell it so cheaply is that they want a few homes in the district to use their product and then when it is known it will be sold at a higher rate so you had better buy now. Or else it is the smooth faced little urchin explaining why he is late home.

Scripture tells us that Satan is the father of all lies. One of his favorite lies is that told to parents that it is only right that their children should not be made to attend any church, when they are older they will choose their own. The truth is that Satan knows what parents learn, the children when they grow up choose the world because that is where they have gone all their lives.

"Train up a child in the way that he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it." Prov. 22:6.

Train him in the world, which is not the way he should go, and he will not depart from it. Don't listen to Satan any longer. God tells all parents to "teach them the Scriptures to thy sons, and thy sons' sons." Deut. 4:9.

Our church stands ready to help you in this great undertaking. Bring your children and teach them to fear God by the example you set.

Plans Prepared For New Rooms At Five Schools

Tenders will be called shortly by Saanich school board for additions and alterations to five schools in the district. Working drawings are now being prepared for vocational wing additions at Claremont senior secondary and Mount Newton junior secondary schools; for alterations and additions to Royal Oak junior secondary and for one-classroom additions to McTavish and Sansbury elementary schools it was reported last week.

termined to make their own wine and put the liquor stores out of business.

Avoiding this pitfall we instead gathered hundreds of pounds of apples, spent long hours pressing, and ended up with brimming crockfuls of juice. This bubbled away merrily for days while I waited, impatient for the end product. When it came, we discovered that we were the proud owners of a lifetime supply of the very best apple vinegar.

WORK BEES

After that fiasco I joined up with a group of experts who pooled their apples and their knowledge to turn out some very good cider. All through the fall we had Saturday work bees, grinding up large quantities of apples and pressing out barrels of juice, with a glass of last year's vintage always at hand, to keep out the cold and keep our enthusiasm at a high level. It's the barrels or big glass carboys that make the difference I discovered. You've got to be able to keep the air out with an airtight, and also to know when and how to stop the fermentation. Given those two requisites and you can be drinking your own cider by the New Year. In the same way, if you have a pear tree you can turn it's fruit into perry or pear cider, a very dainty drink that is much appreciated by the ladies.

Finally a word of warning. Some of our public servants take a very dim view of free enterprise when it comes to home distilling, so if you want to drink calvados, you'll probably find it a lot cheaper to go to France.

I was very grieved to hear of the sudden death of Amy Wilson. Her first book, "No Man Stands Alone" appeared only recently, and it marked her as a writer of strength and honesty.

We are all the poorer, now that her typewriter is silent, but it is a consolation to know that she did leave the thrill of seeing her book in the bookstores.

LARGER AUDIENCE

AS FIRST ELECTIONS APPROACH

With the first elections drawing closer, a larger crowd of interested visitors was attracted to Tuesday evening's regular meeting of North Saanich municipality in Holy Trinity parish hall. Reeve A. B. Nash was in the chair and all members of the council present.

Municipal Clerk B. C. Bracewell was named returning officer. Nominations will be received in the municipal hall, Third St., Sidney, on Monday, Nov. 29 and the voting will take place in the parish hall on Saturday, Dec. 11 for a reeve and four councillors.

At the same time it was agreed to present a referendum to the electorate on aid for hospitals, one for parks and another for library assistance. An election for a school trustee will take place also. Plenty of ballot papers is thus assured. Councillor Chas. Erickson suggested that a public meeting might be sponsored to discuss aid for parks, libraries and hospitals but it was agreed that this was strictly not council business and that ratepayers groups might arrange such a meeting. Councillor J. B. Cumming urged that facilities of the regional library would be advanced to residents of North Saanich.

Letter from Mrs. Eva Hinton on the subject of libraries was received and filed.

Authorization was given for the borrowing of a second $5,000 from the Bank of Montreal for routine expenditures. It was proposed by Mr. Cumming that a suitable donation be made to Holy Trinity Church for use of the parish hall and his motion was adopted unanimously.

At a rather late hour council went into committee of the whole to discuss appointment of a permanent municipal clerk, and other business.

President

New president of the Patricia Bay Local Council of the Civil Service Association of Canada is Frank Edlington of Sidney. Secretary-treasurer of the local council for the coming year is Michael Dolan. The officers were elected at the annual meeting of the council held in the department of transport lunch room on Thursday evening, Oct. 28. Installation of the new officers will take place following the December meeting.

HIS ENTRY GAINS NOTE

Sidney man has been named in a province-wide contest by designers.

Ronald Muscow, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Muscow, Third St., has been awarded honorable mention by the British Columbia Industrial Design Committee for his entry.

Mr. Muscow submitted a surface gauge which he had constructed while studying at North Saanich secondary school.

Two students of Mount View senior secondary school in Saanich gained mention. They were Frank Gale and Ronald G. McCaig. Two Lansdowne students also gained acclaim.

They were among about 50 competitors.

HEARINGS OF THE PROVINCIAL REDISTRIBUTION COMMISSION

PUBLIC ENQUIRIES ACT R.S.B.C. CHAPT. 315

Take Notice that hearings of the Provincial Re-Distribution Commission will be held for the following Electoral Districts:-

ESQUIMALT
OAK BAY
SAANICH
VICTORIA

In Room 205, County Court Chambers
THE LAW COURTS
850 Burrard Street

Commencing at 10:30 a.m. on Wednesday,
November 3rd, 1965

All representations to the Commission must be made publicly either at this hearing or by written brief, or by letter addressed to the Secretary. Groups or individuals intending to submit briefs are requested to communicate with the Secretary beforehand.

The Commission would be assisted greatly in its work if briefs submitted would include remarks and suggestions on the following points:-

1. Should Municipal boundaries be disregarded, to allow of a more even population distribution, when adjusting Electoral District boundaries in a Metropolitan area?
2. Are dual member ridings preferable to two separate one member ridings covering the same area?
3. Are there regional or historical reasons why the Metropolitan area of Victoria should have a greater representation by population than the Metropolitan area of Vancouver?

All briefs not submitted at a public hearing should be in the hands of the Secretary by November 30th, 1965.

G. R. BRADBROOKE,
Secretary,

FOLLOW THE CROWS

We have been in Sidney for about two months, enjoying the scenery and weather while looking for a possible site for retirement. We think the town of Sidney and surrounding country very nice and would be very attractive to settle in except for the overwhelming number of crows and very noticeable lack of other birds. Surely your town council must be very lax to let these birds fly all over town, destroying other birds nests, scattering garbage and making raucous noises on houses and streets. In general, a noticeable detraction from your otherwise pleasant little town.

At one time in Calgary crows began invading the city but permits were issued to citizens, where necessary, to shoot them. Now the treed areas are full of song birds and along the rivers beautiful pheasants are plentiful. What a beautiful place you could have here with bluebirds, robins and pheasants instead of irritating destructive crows.

One man with a permit for a light bore shotgun could safely clean this town of crows in a couple of days. Crows do not remain in an area where they are shot at. Also your property value would rise as many people do not desire to settle in a paradise for crows.

Some say the SPCA is responsible for the protection of crows. This surely cannot be true as this would be protection of predators instead of beautiful pheasants and song birds. It used to be "Follow the Bluebirds to Victoria," now it will have to be "Follow the Crows to Sidney."

LOOK BACK 50 YEARS

Couple Married At Nelson Celebrate Anniversary Here

An English couple married at Nelson, B.C., celebrated their 50 years together at Sidney recently. Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Ashton, of 10441 All Bay Road were married on October 25, 1915. Both were born and raised in England and Mr. Ashton came to Canada in 1907 and his wife in 1911.

Prior to his marriage, Mr. Ashton was in business in Nelson. After their wedding, the young couple made their home at Moose Jaw, Sask., where Mr. Ashton was engaged in munitions manufacture.

The couple later farmed near Moose Jaw and upon the opening of the Moose Jaw Technical School in 1931, Mr. Ashton was one of the industrialists called in to teach technical subjects. He continued there until 1953 when, upon retirement, they located in Sidney. Mr. and Mrs. Ashton also found time to farm reclaimed property in the Creston area from 1935 to 1948.

LIFE MEMBER

Mr. Ashton is a charter member of the Saskatchewan Technical Teachers' Association and holds life memberships in the Gideons International and British and Foreign Bible Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashton have four daughters and one son and 15 grandchildren. Mrs. Lorne (Olive) Ross and Mrs. A. C. (Irene) Deeks both live in Victoria; Mrs. Fred (Betty) Anderson, at Regina; Mrs. Eugene (Joan) Smithson and Ray Ashton, both of Calgary.

MESSAGES

On the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary, the Sidney couple received messages of congratulations and best wishes from many parts of Canada. Included were letters from Prime Minister L. B. Pearson, Hon. John Diefenbaker, Premier W. A. C. Bennett; Lieut.-Gov. George R. Pearkes, Lieut.-Gov. Ross Thatcher of Saskatchewan, Lieut.-Gov. of Saskatchewan R. L. Hanbridge, Moose Jaw Mayor Louis H. Lewry and Victoria Mayor R. B. Wilson.

An Investment Opportunity for YOU!!

Saanich Peninsula Credit Union has made it possible for everyone to make a wise investment. We refer to the newest service available to our members—Term Deposits.

These Term Deposits are made in units of $100.00 and for terms of five years. The Credit Union will guarantee to pay interest of 5% on these deposits.

The Credit Union can only do business with its members and all the operating surplus must be returned to its members. This means that every year many thousands of dollars stay in our community that would otherwise be lost to us.

Yes, we have faith in the Saanich Peninsula! If YOU have the same kind of faith, drop into one of the Credit Union offices and see how you can invest in your own community. We will be very pleased to serve you.

VOTERS!

Do you realize that when you vote for the Conservative or Liberal Candidate
you are voting
AGAINST BRITISH COLUMBIA?

Do you think more of a political party than you do of the welfare and future of your Province . . . where you work and live?

You, as a worker and taxpayer have to pay more because you live in British Columbia, because BOTH the Conservative and the Liberal Parties give your Provincial Government . . . The lowest percentage of income tax return; charge us the highest customs duties. . . We pay high and unfair freight rates. . . We do not get any construction grants for our railway. . . No shipbuilding subsidy for our ferries. . . No grant for our hydro projects . . . The Federal Government owes British Columbia $17 million promised on the P.G.E. Construction Grants. . . These are only a few of the things that both the old line parties have done AGAINST British Columbia and its people. . . How can any true, honest citizen of this Province vote for their candidates, knowing that by voting for them they are voting against themselves and the other people who live in British Columbia.

So vote for a brighter and better British Columbia

By Voting

Candidates Are Lined Up Here

Here is a quick run-down on the candidates seeking seats in Esquimalt-Saanich in Monday's polling here. They are listed in alphabetical order. Only George Chatterton is a veteran of election campaigns.

GEORGE CHATTERTON—P.C.

Seeking his fourth consecutive term as member of parliament for Esquimalt-Saanich is Progressive Conservative George Chatterton.

First elected in 1961, Mr. Chatterton was re-elected in 1962 and 1963 with increased majorities.

Married with four children, he is a university graduate with post-graduate work in agriculture and from 1945 to 1961 was regional supervisor of the Veterans' Land Act for Vancouver Island. He served overseas as a navigation officer with the R.C.A.F. in World War II.

Prior to entering federal politics, Mr. Chatterton held a wide range of positions in this area including: trustee and chairman Saanich school board; councillor and reeve of Saanich municipality; chairman, Capital Region Planning Board; member, Capital District Improvement Commission; president, DVA Employees Association; president, Community Planning Association; president, Vancouver Island Association of Municipalities; chairman of the police commission; president, Appraisal Institute of Canada; executive, Union of B.C. Municipalities, as well as P.T.A. chairman and P.T. council chairman.

During his four years as member of parliament for this constituency, Mr. Chatterton served on five parliamentary committees including veterans' affairs, external affairs, marine and fisheries, agriculture and Tory spokesman on the Canada Pensions Plan special committee. In addition, he was the Canadian delegate to the World Inter-Parliamentary Union, and an executive member of this body, and vice-president of the Parliamentary Association of World Federalists.

JAMES H. GORST—Liberal

Esquimalt-Saanich Liberal candidate, James H. Gorst, has the distinction of being the only single candidate in this riding for the November 8 federal election.

Now the owner and director of a Victoria transportation company, Mr. Gorst was born in Saanich 43 years ago. After serving with the R.C.A.F. in World War Two he joined the C.P.R. for a number of years before getting into the transportation business here.

Mr. Gorst is a past-president of the B.C. Young Liberal Association and a former member of the national executive of the Young Liberal Federation of Canada. He served as president of the Saanich Liberal Association from 1960 to 1963 and he is currently president of the Portage Inlet and Gorge Waterways Association.

MRS. VERA PIPES—Social Credit

Social Credit candidate Mrs. Vera Pipes, 64, is taking her first stab at federal politics. A native of Pipestone, Minn., she has lived in this area for 22 years and she has six children and 20 grandchildren. She lives with her husband John at 5161 Agate Lane.

Long a supporter of Social Credit, the real estate sales lady says she has made a complete study of Canadian politics. She was a charter member of the National Parliamentarians Association and is an active member of the Victoria Toastmistress Club. She has also served in various capacities with Parent-Teacher Associations in this district.

Basing her election platform on fair treatment for B.C., Mrs. Pipes said she will continue to reside in Saanich if elected next Monday.

LEN STEPHENSON—N.D.P.

Len Stephenson has been bidding his time waiting for a federal election for many months now. He was nominated by local members of the New Democratic Party last spring to contest the next election for the Esquimalt-Saanich seat in the House of Commons.

Mr. Stephenson was born in Bashaw, Alberta, 47 years ago and he has been a resident of this district for the last 24 years. He resides at 2815 Shoreline Road with his wife Corinne and children Tara and Jay.

A barber, he has been president of the lower island local of the barbers union for the last four years. Mr. Stephenson is a partner in a city barber shop and he has been in business here for 12 years.

MORE ABOUT CANDIDATES

The New Democrat said that if present policies are continued "we will keep sliding towards and eventually be owned completely by the U.S."

Final speaker of the evening, Mr. Mathison apologized for the absence of Mr. Chatterton and went on to castigate the Liberal government for its past performance and current campaign issues.

"Mr. Gorst's advertisement in the local paper really made me laugh," he said. "He was saying what the Liberals have done for B.C."

"Sixty per cent of the cost of the Trans-Canada Highway was paid for by the federal government—because the Conservative party enacted such legislation. The Liberal government paid 35 per cent of the cost of B.C. ferries and other ships—and the Conservatives put that in. Grants to universities and students were increased—it was the Conservatives that raised the per capita grant from $1 to $2 and now suggest a further raise to $5," Mr. Mathison said.

"The Liberals give $500 grants for homes built during the winter yet in eastern Canada it is almost impossible to build a home during the winter and it's too wet in the west," he said.

VIETNAM
Mr. Mathison was the only speaker to refer to Vietnam.

"Mr. Diefenbaker made it clear that withdrawal of all troops in Vietnam will not bring peace. But we won't send the young men of Canada to fight and help the United States in that war."

As to the Tory platform in the current election battle, Mr. Mathison read excerpts from an advertisement, written by Mr. Chatterton, that has appeared in local newspapers.

At the conclusion of the candidates' 10-minute speeches, and a brief rebuttal by Mrs. Pipes, the meeting was thrown open to questions from the floor.

Asked "What does the N.D.P. think about selling our water resources south of the line," Mr. Stephenson replied: "We take a dim view of it. No government has the right to give it away."

Does the Liberal party have any plans to seek greater control of foreign investments in Canada? The Liberals propose the establishment of the Canadian Development Corporation to give all Canadians an equal opportunity to participate in the economic development of this country, Mr. Gorst answered. The Liberal candidate was also questioned at some length on the Canada Pension Plan and the Canada Assistance Plan.

Bringing the meeting to a conclusion, the chairman thanked the audience for turning out despite torrents of rain and noted that the all-candidates' meeting was the first of many which the Sidney Jaycees plan to sponsor at the various levels of government in this district.

Of the four men seeking seats in Nanaimo-Islands on Monday, three appeared on the hustings in 1963. Lyle Wilkinson is a newcomer to the campaign.

COLIN CAMERON—N.D.P.

Colin Cameron has held the Nanaimo, Cowichan and Islands seat at Ottawa continuously since 1962 when he defeated Conservative W. F. Matthews. He also represented the district prior to Mr. Matthews' success. Mr. Cameron is a veteran of both federal and provincial campaigns for many years. He is a farmer from Cassidy, near Nanaimo. He won a clear victory in April of 1963 over his closest rival, the Tory candidate, and it was only in some of the Gulf Islands polls where he was edged out by Mr. Matthews.

DOUGLAS GREER—Liberal

Liberal candidate Douglas Greer is contesting a federal election in the islands for the second time. A Nanaimo alderman for a number of years, Mr. Greer is a lawyer by profession. He ran third in the Gulf Islands polls at his first attempt to unseat incumbent Colin Cameron of the N.D.P. in April of 1963.

W. F. MATTHEWS—P.C.

Hoping to regain the Nanaimo, Cowichan and the Islands seat in the house of commons on Monday is Progressive Conservative candidate W. F. (Bus) Matthews. Mr. Matthews represented the riding for the Tories four years in power at Ottawa but lost out to New Democrat Colin Cameron in 1962 and 1963 elections. A Nanaimo businessman, Mr. Matthews is well known throughout the constituency and this week is conducting campaign meetings in the Gulf Islands.

LYLE C. WILKINSON—S.C.

Campaign for the election on Monday is Lyle Wilkinson's first entry into the federal political arena.

Born on Vancouver Island some 40 miles north of Nanaimo, Mr. Wilkinson now resides in the hub city with his wife and four children. A chemist at a pulp mill, he is 45 years of age.

Mr. Wilkinson is currently serving his fourth term as a school trustee and he is president of the Nanaimo Overture Society and he organized the Sea Cadets at Nanaimo. The Social Credit candidate's chief contention in the current campaign is that B.C. needs a better deal from Ottawa.

CENTRAL SAANICH

Approval In Principle For Local Centennial Project

Centennial project of a swimming pool and lawn bowling green was approved in principle by Central Saanich council Tuesday evening on the recommendation of the Centennial Committee.

The municipality also agreed to a committee request for financial assistance in preparing plans and seeking detailed estimates on the local project.

Decisions were reached by council after lengthy discussion of possible costs with representatives of the committee. Committee had roughly estimated that the project could be carried out under $30,000 but some members of council said they fear costs could go as high as $50,000 or $60,000 plus heavy annual maintenance costs.

Final decision will be made by council when accurate estimates are available.

Supporting the committee's recommendation, Chairman A. G.

Remembrance Services At Sidney

For the Sانشa service on Thursday, markers will take their positions at 10.30 a.m. and general fall-in will be at 10.40 a.m. Local veterans' associations, air cadets, guides, brownies, cubs, scouts and other groups will parade and the service will be similar to last year, said Norman Caffelle who has the task of organizing the service.

Those who did not return from two world wars will be remembered at Sidney on two occasions during the next week.

Remembrance service will be conducted at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall on Mills Cross Road at 2.30 p.m. this Sunday and the annual Armistice Day service will be held inside Sانشa hall on Thursday morning, Nov. 11. Both services are open to the public.

Rev. C. H. Whitmore and Rev. Bernard Hanley will officiate on both occasions.

Monday is Lyle Wilkinson's first entry into the federal political arena.

Born on Vancouver Island some 40 miles north of Nanaimo, Mr. Wilkinson now resides in the hub city with his wife and four children. A chemist at a pulp mill, he is 45 years of age.

Mr. Wilkinson is currently serving his fourth term as a school trustee and he is president of the Nanaimo Overture Society and he organized the Sea Cadets at Nanaimo. The Social Credit candidate's chief contention in the current campaign is that B.C. needs a better deal from Ottawa.

IN AND Around Town

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Forge, Marshall Road, recently visited Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Gardner in Vancouver. Dr. Gardner and his family are former residents of Bazan Bay.

Mrs. W. McAuley is recuperating at her home in the Seacrest Apartments after undergoing surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. S. North and family, who left Sidney to farm in Birtle, Manitoba, have returned to Bazan Bay for the winter months.

Among those who enjoyed a lengthy holiday last summer was Mrs. C. Downey, 1180 Laurel Road. She left on the ferry for Vancouver on July 13; travelled by train to Newcastle and by bus to Fredericton, New Brunswick, where she was met by her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Elliott who drove her by car to their home in Debec, New Brunswick. Here she visited many friends and relatives.

On her return home she travelled by plane from Fredericton to Montreal and by train to Vancouver. She had the opportunity of journeying via five modes of travel and found them all very pleasant.

Capt. and Mrs. Lloyd L. Albee, of San Francisco, have been visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Thornley, Saanich, also her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gardner, Shore-

Man of Many Voices

Whether it's a fugue by Bob Goulet, Jimmy Durante and Perry Como... a comedy routine by Jack Benny and George Burns... or a debate between Canadian political leaders, impressionist Rich Little can handle all the voices to perfection. And these are among the things he does on 13 Rich Little specials to be broadcast on CBC radio's new Sunday Showcase series during the 1965-66 season. To add to the comedy and musical entertainment, Little will have top Canadian artists as guests on the various broadcasts. The new series is heard Sunday afternoon on the CBC radio network.

POTPOURRI

THE DAY THE ROOF FELL IN

By ROSALIE HEYWOOD

Actually it was night. I lay in bed in the dark listening to the howling gale blowing outside. It was fall but it seemed like winter. The wind, with gusts of 70 miles per hour and over sent the heavy rain against the side of the house. A huge old oak tree still laden with unshed leaves moaned agonizingly and a branch shook and rattled precariously near our bedroom window.

This was my fear: the branch would break and come through the window! The wind continued its ferocious onslaught and I drifted to sleep, restless and wary as one is when the elements take command. A loud crack and my husband and I were jarred into wakefulness. "The window!" I cried and swung my legs over the side of the bed. I could feel pieces of what I thought was glass under my bare feet.

"Right through the roof!" cried my husband.

INVADED

"No, it's the window," I insisted. "I can feel the..." I picked up a piece but it wasn't glass. It was thicker and blunt. With the light switched on we stared at the corner of the room and there we saw a good portion of the tree protruding through our bedroom ceiling. Plaster was everywhere and the rain was beginning to trickle through. It seemed unreal... a dream!

My husband pulled on some clothes and with nails, hammer and building paper, shingles, tin, anything he could find he climbed to the roof to make a temporary shield against the rain.

GROTESQUE VISION

Our neighbor's light was on so I telephoned and they came over to view the damage. We stood in the blustery weather and saw where the tree had snapped and lay on and in our house. We gaped at the grotesque vision inside where the tree trunk stuck through.

We were fortunate in that the insurance took care of repairs. Glass was not included in the coverage but the window was intact, and the mirror of my vanity had no marks at all even though it stood directly under the hole in the ceiling.

TURMOIL

There followed weeks of rebuilding, plastering and painting for resultant cracks were found throughout the house. Life was in a turmoil for a while but finally settled down.

That was three years ago but whenever a storm hits the area we remember and feel the shock all over again.

SISTER HERE

The death occurred in Vancouver on October 29 of Samuel Gordon Copeland, aged 60 years, a resident of Vancouver and formerly of Smithers. Mrs. Freda Raluse of Sidney is a sister.

ABOUT 65 AT FROLIC

IT IS A DAY FOR SMALL CHILDREN AND BIG PARTIES AS HALLOWE'EN COMES TO FULFORD

By BEA HAMILTON.

On Halloween many children were entertained at the Fulford Hall during the afternoon. Under the management of the Fulford Athletic Club, over 65 children turned out in costume, from the traditional witch to the ghost, and any other identity that can be thought of. They were all there, from a tiny bride and groom, not yet school age, to the fierce pirate. And they all had a good time.

Under the direction of Mrs. Bev Gibson and Mrs. Kyle, the starting procession paraded around the hall, with every now and then a drop-out, as some wee ghostie ran to mother or daddy for comfort from the milling crowds.

JUDGES

The judges were: Mrs. C. Maxwell, Mrs. J. B. Severn, and Mrs. Victor Ames.

"We needed prizes for all the children, they were so good," said

Mrs. Ames. However, the winners were: best Halloween — 1, Brenda Simard; 2, Elaine Patterson; 3, Kathy Gibson; best dressed — 1, Annette Blaise; 2, Shelly Ellison; 3, Kathy Roland. Comic — 1, Brenda Jeffries; 2, Jan Kyle; 3, Kathy Krawchuck. Original — 1, Cheryl Bertram; 2, Gordon Gibson; 3, Debbie Woodley. Special mention: Yvonne and Kathleen Bradley, bride and groom.

Games and refreshments, with candy, ended the afternoon frolic, with a vote of thanks to all who attended and assisted in any way. And a special thanks to the F.A.C. members who each year give the children of Salt Spring Island a happy Halloween.

Though most of the children were local, a number came from Ganges and were welcomed by the sponsors, who extend a hearty thank you to the judges for their excellent choices.

New Brownies

Six new Brownies joined the Brownie Pack last Wednesday in ceremony at St. George's Church, at Ganges.

Their mothers were present to watch as Commissioner Hedgecock pinned the Brownie pins on Sharon and Lorraine John, Sherry Ryles, Denise Evans, Jeanette Cawker and Valerie Knowles. The Brownies were delighted to have the new Tawny Owl, Mrs. E. Lacy, enrolled as a Guide at the same time. And before tea was served, there was one more important ceremony to perform, Linda Stacey and Margaret Ramsey achieved their golden bars.

remodel your kitchen with LIGHT!

Nothing like light, the right light in the right places, to make your kitchen easier and more pleasant to work in.

GENERAL LIGHTING: to see into cupboards and read labels.

AT THE SINK AND COUNTER: light to see if your dishes are really clean; for preparation of meals.

AT THE RANGE: light to help you cook better, to see if that steak is rare or medium/rare.

Start planning your bright new kitchen now. Ease into it if you like, and add one lighting improvement at a time. For your copy of "BRIGHT IDEAS For Kitchen Lighting" contact B.C. HYDRO Lighting Advisory Service.

Members of the South Salt Spring Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. R. Lee on Wednesday, Nov. 10, at 2 p.m. for the annual meeting, according to the secretary, Mrs. P. Middlemiss.

SUN ROOM AT GANGES IS OPEN

—For $8,500

In appreciation of their assistance and interest the board of management and administrative staff of the Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital invited the members of the Women's Auxiliary, Wednesday, Oct. 20, to view the newly-completed sun room.

Refreshments were served in the board room.

D. Cuvaye, vice-chairman of the board, welcomed the ladies and thanked them for their generous contributions of money and time "not only for the sun room but in all that had been done for the hospital in the past". Their work has helped to maintain a high standard of patient care and patient comfort in the hospital, he stated.

The addition was constructed by Cruikshank Construction and furnished by the Women's Auxiliary. Cost, including furnishings, amounted to $8,500.

The provincial government provided the week-end visitor of his parents, Captain and Mrs. V. C. Best.

Mr. and Mrs. Alec McRae, West Vancouver, were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Humphreys.

Mrs. F. G. Scerfield, South Pasadena, Calif., left Tuesday after spending the past three months as a guest at Harbor House Hotel.

Pensioners Plan Bazaar Saturday

Branch 32, O.A.P.O. held the general meeting on October 21 in St. George's Hall at 2 p.m. Due to sickness the president, Archdeacon G. H. Holmes, the first vice-president took the chair.

A good number attended and two new members were welcomed.

Final arrangements were made for the forthcoming bazaar on November 6, in St. George's Hall. Mrs. Warren Hastings will open the bazaar. Mrs. E. Thacker will convene the affair.

The annual meeting will take place November 16. All members are asked to attend.

A one-third grant and the remainder was financed through donations received by the hospital from local and other interested people.

All residents of the Gulf Islands have been invited to inspect the new addition any day during the regular visiting hours.

GALIANO

Sam Frederickson, of Toronto, Ont., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Frederickson, at Georgeson Bay.

Mrs. Arnold Sater is spending a few days in Vancouver, accompanied by her youngest son, Erling.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jack, of Campbell River, spent the week-end visiting Mrs. Jack's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Sater, and other relatives on the island.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Walton, of Prince George, with their small daughter, are spending several days visiting Mrs. Walton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Les Walton.

Mr. and Mrs. Hank Knutsen, of Sicamous, are spending a few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Georgeson, Jr., and family.

Mrs. Ken Sater recently spent several days in Vancouver, taking her son, Ivar to the dentist.

Two of the candidates in the forthcoming election have visited the Galiano, a coffee party was held in the hall by his campaign manager. He is the Social Credit candidate for Nanaimo, Cowichan and the Islands. Doug Greer, the Liberal candidate, came over one day last week, and visited several people.

The Galiano Club held a special general meeting in the Galiano Hall on October 27, to approve the spending of money from the Bluffs Trust Fund for installation of a heating system in the hall. This was greeted with acclaim in the community. The inadequate oil heater, which has served for many years, was always breaking down, and many have complained about the cold.

Trustees Are Re-elected In Gulf Islands District

Trustees elected in the Gulf Islands School District No. 64 are J. M. Campbell, board chairman, Saturna; George Heinekey, vice-chairman, North Salt Spring; Dr. T. L. Jansch, North Salt Spring; and R. M. Patterson, South Salt Spring. There was only one change, Mrs. Elizabeth Ross replaced J. R. Clarke, Mayne Island.

Board members not up for election this year are C. P. Moat, and A. M. Sharp, North Salt Spring; L. J. Armstrong, Pender Island; and D. A. New, Galiano.

Gulf Islands district school population is now 597, with 498 attending the Saltspring Island school. Teaching staff totals 27, with 19 in the Salt Spring school.

The new Gulf Islands secondary school, presently under construction at Ganges is expected to be completed next Easter.

NOTABLE AUTHOR SPEAKS

St. George's church hall was packed on Friday night when R. M. Patterson, formerly of Sidney, author and explorer, gave a most interesting talk as he showed pictures taken up the Nahanni River. Many pictures showed the tremendous mountains, canyons and falls, as the audience travelled through the North-West Territories in slides. The fantastic Twisted Mountain and the Splits at the most dangerous part of the great Nahanni River, the hot springs and even a rainbow were among the scenes depicted.

The guest of honor was introduced by Miss Doris Anderson, president of St. Mary's Guild, which sponsored the successful affair. About $50 was collected for Guild funds.

A. E. Roddis thanked Mr. Patterson on behalf of the church members and coffee and buns ended the pleasant evening.

Mr. Patterson autographed a number of his books: "Far Pastures", before he left to catch the ferry at 10.30 for Victoria.

Magistrate's Court

An Esquimalt man was fined $50 in Sidney magistrate's court on Saturday for speeding on the Patricia Bay Highway. R.C.M.P. said Ronald James Zabok was charged after his car was clocked travelling 80 miles per hour in a 60 mile per hour zone.

Also in court on Saturday, Constance Mary Anthony was fined $15 and costs when she pleaded guilty to passing a school bus when it was discharging passengers.

FAMILY TRAVELS EUROPE AS SMALL CHILDREN LOOK HOME

Madrona Drive family is traveling extensively this year. Mrs. Bell found the Alps lovely and impressive. She was particularly intrigued to find the fall crocuses so carefully cultivated at her Deep Cove home, growing wild along the Swiss roadsides and fields. In Switzerland, she learned, it is a weed.

In October they visited Vienna en route to Prague. Mrs. Bell explains that they gained a poor impression of Czechoslovakia, although they spent an interesting week in Prague.

AT FROLIC

Paris Designers May Have Seen Some Tips At Sanscha

Paris fashion designers should have been at Sanscha hall in Sidney last Friday evening — they might have picked up some tips from the costumes worn by over 150 people who were there for the first annual Hallowe'en Frolic.

Most of those present were in costume and the judges, Mrs. Florence Smith, Mrs. Dorothy Wrotonowski and Mrs. Helen Beirness experienced considerable difficulty in awarding the prizes. However, after the judges had compared notes, the prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. John Bailey for the most original costumes; to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fenton, best comic costumes, and to Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. Mannix for the best couple.

Fred Usher's orchestra provided the music for the lively affair and a varied program was also provided by Fred Usher's entertainers.

The dance was organized by Mrs. Vivian Cowan with the assistance of the Sidney Kinsmen Club and the Sanscha catering committee. Original and distinctive decorations were specially made for the occasion by Miss Jill Cowan of Sidney. Proceeds of the dance will be used for the improvement of the community centre on Beacon Ave.

The successful costume ball was staged because of the popularity of an earlier fancy dress dance at the hall at the beginning of the summer, tropicana night on July 1.

Spokesman for the Sanscha dance committee said members are now confident they can provide music and entertainment of the highest order in Sidney at reasonable prices and they hope their future plans will continue to merit the full support of the local public.

SPECIAL FEATURE FO RBAZAAR

"Granny's Cupboard" will be a feature of the annual pre-Christmas bazaar of St. Paul's United Church Women this year. The bazaar will be held on Saturday, Nov. 13 from 2 to 4.30 p.m. in the church hall on Malaview Ave.

General convener is Mrs. C. L. Adsett. Many stalls will include home baking, sewing, Christmas gifts, white elephant, books, hats, toys and fish pond for the children, pickles, jams, candy, and plants. Tea will be served from 2.30 to 4.30 p.m.

SHE RECALLS PENINSULA WITH PLEASURE

A former visitor to Sidney district has written from Alberta seeking two copies of Amy Wilson's No Man Stands Alone.

Mrs. Thomas G. Hopkins of Lethbridge, Alta., wrote to Gray Campbell, of Gray's Publishing Ltd. In her letter she recalls that she was at Shoal Harbor for three months in the winter of 1944.

"We cherish the kindness and hospitality of all the people at Sidney," Mrs. Hopkins told the publishing firm.

She recalled shopping in Sidney and attending the United Church. Mrs. Hopkins recalled living on Mrs. McMicken's property with her daughter and her air force husband.

Pool Room By-law Gains Final Reading Here

The opening of pool rooms in Sidney to boys of any age has been finally accepted by the village council.

On Friday evening last week the council gave final reading to the by-law which provides for the use of pool rooms by boys of the age of 14, upwards without restriction and by younger boys when accompanied by a parent or guardian.

TWO SENIOR MEMBERS HONORED

On Monday evening, Nov. 1, the congregation of the Assembly of God Church at 9182 East Saanich Road, held a surprise party for N. Reid and W. S. Brown.

Mr. Reid is 84 on November 2, while Mr. Brown will be 84 on November 9, both are enjoying good health and have been faithful members of the Assembly for a good number of years. More than 40 folks gathered to wish them well.

The evening was spent in games, special music and song as well as a number of appropriate readings.

The ladies of the Women's Missionary Council arranged the program and served a delicious luncheon. Two nicely decorated cakes graced the head table at which the honored guests sat along with Rev. and Mrs. Fleming. All their friends wish both gentlemen many years of good health and strength with which to enjoy life.

PLACE OF HONOR

LEGION RECOGNIZES FLAG AS REMEMBRANCE DAY NEARS

The Sub-Executive of the Royal Canadian Legion Dominion Council in Ottawa decided this week that it would not be in keeping with the Legion aims and objects if the Canadian flag was not given its place of honor in formal parades. On Remembrance Day, Pacific Command President James Hall has ruled that the national flag of Canada will be flown on all Legion Cenotaphs and carried on the right—in the place of honor—with Canadian Ensign and Local Branch standards.

SANSCHA SUSIES PLANNING BAZAAR TO CANCEL DEBTS

By SUSIE SANSCHA.

Sanscha Susies have been working ever since last January preparing for their bazaar, which is to be held this year on December 4, and will be opened by Mrs. W. A. C. Bennett. Last Thursday they entertained delegates from each ladies' organization in the district at a coffee party when final plans were formulated. Everyone was enthusiastic and willing to help, and this is as it should be as Sanscha belongs to everyone in Sidney and North Saanich, not just to the directors, as so many people seem to think.

Last year the Susies used their money to have the parking lot black-topped at a cost of $3,350, and on this project they still owe $1,450, which must be paid by the end of this year, and so they are asking everyone in the district to rally around and help make the bazaar a great success.

They need more apron material as well as aprons and other objects of sale, wool and good ideas.

How about it ladies, will you help? And what about the men?

Barkley Is Named By Parents' Group At North Saanich

North Saanich Junior Secondary School Parents' Auxiliary executive held its first meeting of the term at the school on Monday, Oct. 25.

The following members were in attendance: D. C. McKinnon, Mrs. J. Bruce, Mrs. H. M. Tobin, M. Clarke, Mrs. W. Gardner, Mrs. D. Jack, Mrs. J. R. Hibbert, W. I. Anderson and G. S. Barkley.

Election of officers was held, with the following taking office: chairman, G. S. Barkley; secretary, Mrs. J. R. Hibbert; treasurer, W. I. Anderson.

A baby-sitting course has been organized at the school under the supervision of Mrs. D. Jack. Total of 41 students have already registered.

Awards were discussed and tabled until the next meeting when further information will be available.

Next executive meeting will be held on December 13, at 7 p.m. at the school.

WED IN CIVIL CEREMONY AT POLICE OFFICE

Wedding took place on Tuesday last of Mrs. Hilda O'Brien of Edmonton, and Leonard Francis of Nanaimo. Corporal H. Chambers conducted a most impressive service in the Sidney R.C.M.P. courtroom. Special permission had been granted for the service.

The bridal couple were attended by the groom's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Francis of Deep Cove. A gay reception followed at the Claude Francis home.

The newlyweds departed for an extended honeymoon in Vancouver, Edmonton and Vermont and will take up residence in Nanaimo.

CAT IS CENTRAL CHARACTER IN FILM AT GEM

A cat is the central character in "The Three Lives of Thomasina" a Walt Disney film that will be screened at the Gem Theatre in Sidney next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Story takes place in the remote Scottish village of Inverloch.

Starred in the movie is Patrick McGeehan, the British actor now well-known to Canadian television viewers through the Danger Man series. In Thomasina, McGeehan plays the role of the veterinarian and widower whose household and business are upset by the misadventures of his daughter's cat.

Susan Hampshire is cast as a lovely witch in the film and Matthew Gardner and Karen Dorrice, the two youngsters who captured moviegoers' hearts in Mary Poppins, also have leading roles in Thomasina.

Hand Weavers Visit Museum

A very enjoyable afternoon was spent recently by some 26 members of the Victoria Hand-Weavers' Guild, when they visited the Maltwood Museum.

The talk given by the curators on the various exhibits, including old rugs, was most interesting, after which the members were entertained at tea by Mrs. A. Palmer, at her home in Cadboro Bay.

At the regular meeting this week, slides were shown of the 13th Canadian Weavers' Exhibition held this year in Toronto, showing various old and new types of weaving. Members are reminded that a loom has been prepared in the honeycomb pattern at the "Room" for members to work on, and also that a spinning session will be held on November 9.

REZONING APPLICATIONS

Dealt With By New Council

Two applications for rezoning of properties in North Saanich were refused by council on Tuesday evening. Both applications were frowned on by the Capital Region Planning Board.

First refusal was given application for a dog kennel in the Deep Cove area. Ten nearby residents sent written objections.

Second application was that of G. L. Hay who sought to sell a half acre parcel of land in an area zoned for two acre minimum holding.

Councillor J. I. Birchett moved that the application be refused and his motion was seconded by Councillor J. B. Cumming.

"Is it customary for us to make a decision without interviewing the applicant? I am not in favor but feel that we should see him and hear his story," suggested Councillor Austin Wright.

"If rezoning is favored, a public meeting must be called," advised Reeve A. B. Nash. Councillor D.

MacLaren felt that council should meet Mr. Hay.

"How much are we bound by the rulings of the Capital Region Planning Board?" asked Dr. Wright.

"Not at all—they have just sent along their advice as we requested," replied Dr. Nash.

"We can't accept or reject this application. We should deal with them all alike and refer it to the 1966 council," declared Councillor Chas. Erickson. Dr. Nash agreed that council should meet Mr. Hay. Councillor J. B. Cumming pointed out that Mr. Hay could apply to the 1966 council regardless of the action of the present council.

Mr. Birchett, head of council's lands and planning committee entered the fray. "He is asking to create a half acre lot in an area zoned for two acres. Approval of his application would set a precedent. We must take a stand to support proper professional advice. This hall would not be large enough to accommodate all applicants for rezoning if we agreed to Mr. Hay's request," he declared.

On Mr. Birchett's motion for refusal of the Hay application being put to a vote, it was supported by a majority. Some councillors didn't vote.

Approval for relaxing regulations to permit of a driveway being built to a golf course on McTavish Road was given unanimously.

To Learn Of Joint Board And Its Effect On District

Public meeting will be called in the next several weeks by the Dean Park Ratepayers' Association to clarify the purpose and aims of the Capital Regional Joint Services Board.

When a large number of ratepayers attended the association meeting on Thursday evening a close concern with the affairs of the new North Saanich municipality was evident.

Meeting discussed the new joint services board at some length. The board and its relationship to hospitals, sewerage and parks, were prominent among the evening's topics. Ratepayers also discussed fire protection and council representation.

The association will invite speakers to explain the ramifications of

FARMERS' VIEW

Drainage Of Infected Area Is Federal Responsibility

Members of the South Saanich Farmers' Institute agreed last Thursday evening that any drainage system for the area infected by the golden nematode should be financed entirely by the federal government.

Discussion of the matter was prompted by press reports that Central Saanich and Saanich municipalities may be called upon to share in the cost of the proposed drainage system on or near the infected area. The members went on record as being strongly opposed to any suggestion of cost sharing, maintaining that it is wholly the responsibility of the federal government.

Also at the meeting, Willard W. Michell gave a full report of the proceedings at the District "A" annual convention held recently at Nanaimo.

Mr. Michell was appointed delegate to attend the 32nd annual convention of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture to be held in Victoria November 23 and 24.

After adjournment of the business meeting, Mr. Michell gave a talk illustrated with color slides of his recent trip to Ontario to attend the Dominion Ploughing Competitions. In addition he visited Toronto and the Niagara Peninsula.

A strike, once the course of last resort, now seems the path of least resistance.
